

Sunder Burj: Various stages of conservation

Sunder Burj & Garden
CONSERVATION & LANDSCAPE

Sunder Burj, 2008

Sunder Burj: Now

The landscape master plan includes a ceremonial heritage corridor - the Central Vista stretching from the shared entrance with Humayun's Tomb Complex in the south and leading to the Mughal-era Azimganj Serai in the north

Sunder Burj, 2008

Sunder Burj Garden: Now

Sunder Burj, 2008

Sunder Burj Garden: Now

Sunder Burj and adjoining area in 2008-09

Sunder Burj Garden: Now

Sunder Burj interiors
in 2008-09

Sunder Burj
Interiors: Now

Sunder Burj interiors
in 2008-09

Sunder Burj Interiors: Now

The restored ornamental domed ceiling of Sunder Burj. Carried out with the support of the US Ambassadors Fund for Cultural Preservation, this required over a year's work by master craftsmen working with traditional tools and building crafts. Lakkawala Burj, the Mughal Tomb and Mirza Muzaffar Hussain's tomb have similar profusely ornamented interiors.

